We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of RediShred Capital Corp. and its subsidiaries, which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as at December 31, 2010 and 2009 and the consolidated statements of operations, shareholders' equity and comprehensive loss and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes including a summary of significant accounting policies.

Management's responsibility for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained in our audits is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of RediShred Capital Corp. and its subsidiaries, as at December 31, 2010 and 2009 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

1 Nature of operations

2 Significant accounting policies

Basis of presentation

All transactions between the Company and its subsidiaries have been eliminated.

Use of accounting estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Estimates include, but are not limited to, the following:

- i) Economic useful life of proprietary software system for purposes of calculating depreciation;
- ii) The allocation of the purchase price for the acquisition of Syracuse, Albany and Milwaukee franchises entails various estimates to determine the fair values of, and allocation of purchase prices to the tangible and intangible assets and liabilities acquired;
- iii) Valuation of accounts receivable and notes receivable from franchisees;
- iv) Valuation of intangible assets; and
- v) Assumptions used in the measurement of stock-based compensation and the fair value of warrants.

While management applies its judgment based on assumptions believed to be reasonable under the circumstances at the time, actual results could vary from their assumptions or had different assumptions been used. The Company evaluates and updates its assumptions and estimates based on any new events occurring, additional information being obtained or more experience being acquired.

Cash

As at December 31, 2010 and 2009, the Company's cash balances were held in bank accounts, which the Company has full access to, and do not include any instruments related to asset-backed securities or commercial paper programs.

Revenue recognition

Franchising and licensing business

The Company earns revenue from initial franchise and license fees paid to secure territories for a specific period and from royalties and service fees paid as a percentage of their monthly sales volumes. Initial franchise fees are recognized as revenue when the franchisee has paid the initial franchise fee, has fully executed a franchise agreement and has been provided the required training. Initial licence fees are recognized as revenue when the licensee has fully executed a licence agreement. Royalties and service fees revenue are accrued monthly based on sales reported by franchisees or licensees. Interest income on notes receivable is recognized in the month earned.

Corporate operations – shredding and recycling services

The Company earns revenue from providing shredding services to clients and by way of the sale of recycled paper to recycling facilities. Shredding service revenue is recorded when the shredding service has been performed and the Company has provided a certificate of destruction and an invoice to the client, and collections are reasonably assured. Recycling revenue is recognized when the collected paper has been delivered to the recycling facility and collections are reasonably assured.

Advertising fund assets and liabilities

The Company manages an advertising fund (the “Ad Fund”) established to collect and administer funds contributed for use in regional and national advertising programs, and amongst other things, initiatives designed to increase sales and enhance general public recognition, acceptance and use of the Proshred System. Contributions to the Ad Fund are required to be made from both franchised and Company owned and operated locations and are based on a percentage of each locations’ revenue. The revenue, expenses and cash flows of the Ad Fund are not included in the Company’s consolidated Statements of Operations or Cash Flows because the contributions to the Ad Fund are segregated and designated for a specific purpose. As at December 31, 2010, the Ad Fund was in a net surplus position of $51,728 (2009 – deficit of $36,486), with cash attributable to the Ad Fund amounting to $87,720 (2009 - $20,983) included in the Company’s cash balance, offset by a corresponding amount included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

Income taxes

The Company uses the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under the liability method, future tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities and are measured using substantially enacted tax rates expected to be in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse. Changes in future income tax rates for assets and liabilities as a result of changes to the subsidiary enacted tax rates are included in income tax recovery (expense) in the period that the substantive enactment or enactment occurs. Future income tax assets are evaluated and recorded if realization is considered more likely than not, otherwise a valuation allowance is provided.

Stock-based compensation

The Company accounts for stock options issued under its stock option plan using the fair value method. Under this method, compensation expense is measured at fair value at the grant date using the Black-Scholes option pricing model and is recognized over the vesting period. Option pricing models require the input of highly subjective assumptions, including the expected volatility. Changes in the assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate.

Foreign currency translation

The Company's subsidiaries operate autonomously as self-sustaining companies. The functional currency of the Company's foreign subsidiaries, Proshred Franchising Corp. and Redishred Acquisition Inc. is the US dollar. Assets and liabilities of these subsidiaries are translated into Canadian dollars at exchange rates at the balance sheet date. Income and expense items are translated at average exchange rates for the period. Cumulative translation adjustments are included as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income in shareholders' equity.

Foreign currency exchange gains or losses, derived from monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency, are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate in effect at the balance sheet date with the resulting foreign currency gains or losses included in the determination of the income for the year.

As investments in self-sustaining subsidiaries are excluded from the financial instrument disclosure, the Company's exposure on financial instruments to the Canadian/US dollar foreign currency exchange rate is primarily to the parent company. The parent has no significant financial instruments subject to foreign currency risk.

Equipment and amortization

Equipment is carried at cost. Amortization is provided for, based on over the estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method over the following periods:

Computer equipment	2 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 years
Computer software	3 years
Bins and shredding containers	5 years
Shredding vehicles – chassis	3-5 years
Shredding vehicles – shredding compartments	3-5 years
Recycling equipment	2 years

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are recorded at their fair value at the date of acquisition. With the exception of re-acquired franchise rights, amortization is provided for intangible assets with limited lives on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of ten years. Amortization on re-acquired franchise rights is based on the remaining initial contractual period, excluding any renewal terms, ranging from 2.3 years to 7.7 years.

Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets, including equipment and other intangible assets are reviewed for impairment when events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Impairment losses are recognized when the carrying value of the asset is greater than the future undiscounted cash flows expected to be provided by the asset. The amount of impairment loss, if any, which is the excess of net carrying value over fair value, is charged to income for the period.

RediShred Capital Corp.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

December 31, 2010 and 2009

(expressed in Canadian dollars)

Deferred financing charges

Deferred financing charges consist of costs incurred relating to the issuance of a revolving line of credit obtained on December 23, 2009 and are amortized over the term of the facility which expires on November 27, 2014.

Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price of an acquired business over the net amount of the fair values assigned to its assets and liabilities and is not subject to amortization.

Loss per share

Basic loss per share is computed by dividing net earnings by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the reporting period. Diluted loss per share is calculated based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, plus the effect of dilutive common share equivalents such as options and warrants. The diluted per share amounts are calculated using the treasury stock method, as if all the common share equivalents where average market prices exceeds issue price had been exercised at the beginning of the reporting period, or the period of issue, as the case may be and that the funds obtained thereby were used to purchase common shares of the Company at the average trading price of the common shares during the period. Since the Company has losses, the exercise of outstanding stock options has not been included in the calculation of diluted loss per share as it would be anti-dilutive.

Financial instruments

i) Financial instruments – recognition and measurement

Section 3855 of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (“CICA”) Handbook establishes standards for recognizing and measuring financial assets, financial liabilities and non-financial derivatives. All financial instruments are required to be measured at fair value on initial recognition, except for certain related party transactions. Measurement in subsequent periods depends on whether the financial instrument has been classified as held-for-trading, available-for-sale, held-to-maturity, loans and receivables or other liabilities.

The Company has implemented the following classifications:

- Cash is classified as “Financial Assets Held-for-Trading”. These financial assets are marked-to-market through net income at each period-end.
- Accounts receivable and notes receivable from franchisees are classified as “Loans and Receivables”. After their initial fair value measurement they are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.
- Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are classified as “Other Financial Liabilities”. After their initial fair value measurement, they are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

RediShred Capital Corp.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

December 31, 2010 and 2009

(expressed in Canadian dollars)

ii) Financial instruments – disclosures

Section 3862 of the CICA Handbook requires additional disclosure requirements about fair value measurement for financial instruments and liquidity risk disclosures. These requirements include a three-level hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the fair value measurements. Each level is based on the transparency of the inputs used to measure the fair values of assets and liabilities:

- Level 1 inputs are unadjusted quoted prices of identical instruments in active markets.
- Level 2 inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 one or more significant inputs used in a valuation technique are unobservable in determining fair values of the instruments.

Determination of fair value and the resulting hierarchy requires the use of observable market data whenever available. The classification of a financial instrument in the hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the measurement of fair value. The only financial instrument recorded at fair value is cash, which is valued based on market prices in an active market (Level 1).

iii) Comprehensive income

Under Section 1530 of the CICA Handbook, comprehensive income is comprised of net earnings and other comprehensive income (“OCI”) which generally would include unrealized gains and losses on financial assets classified as available-for-sale, unrealized foreign currency translation adjustments, net of hedging, arising from self-sustaining foreign operations, and changes in the fair value of the effective portion of cash flow hedging instruments. Accumulated other comprehensive income is presented as a category of shareholders’ equity.

Future accounting policy changes

International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”)

In February 2008, the Canadian Accounting Standards Board ratified a strategic plan that will see GAAP converged with and replaced by IFRS for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2011. The transition date of January 1, 2011 will require the restatement, for comparative purposes, of amounts reported by the Company for the year ended December 31, 2010. For the quarter ended March 31, 2011, the Company will issue its comparative interim financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS.

The Company is committed to pay contingent consideration in respect of both the Syracuse and Albany acquisitions, if either of the franchises achieves certain performance targets for the period ending June 30, 2011. In accordance with GAAP, contingent consideration is not recorded until the contingent element has been resolved.

Subsequent to the acquisitions, the Company settled the Syracuse contingent consideration with a payment of US$25,000 and made interim payments towards the Albany contingent consideration totalling US$9,091 for the year ended December 31, 2010. These amounts have been capitalised to goodwill on the respective acquisition. Any additional contingent consideration in respect of Albany will be capitalised to goodwill when the contingent element is resolved, but is not expected to exceed an additional US$40,862.

4 Notes receivable from franchisees

Notes receivable arise from the financing of the initial franchise fee by franchisees, are guaranteed by the respective owners of the franchises, bear interest rates ranging from 5.25% to 6.25% per annum with monthly blended payments of principal and interest ranging from US$526 to US$1,797, commenced between dates ranging from November 1, 2009 to October 1, 2010 and mature between dates ranging from October 1, 2011 to March 13, 2013. The amounts receivable as at December 31, 2010 and 2009 are as follows:

	2010 $	2009 $
Principal	194,670	207,559
Less: Allowance for impairment	52,787	43,333
Less: Current portion	33,178	24,445
	108,705	139,781

The Company has recorded an allowance for impairment against a note receivable based on the present value of expected future cash flows using a discount rate equal to the effective interest rate on the note receivable prior to the Company ceasing to accrue interest charges. Significant judgment was exercised by management in making this estimate. As such, actual losses could differ from the estimate.

Notes receivable from franchisees past due comprise:

As a result of the acquisition of the Syracuse, Albany, and Milwaukee locations, customer relationships, re-acquired franchise rights and goodwill were recorded (see note 3) in 2010.

The Company's franchise agreements, intangible assets, customer lists, re-acquired franchise rights and goodwill are denominated in US dollars and are subject to foreign currency fluctuations. The Company's foreign currency translation gains and losses on other intangible assets are a component of accumulated other comprehensive income or loss.

Intangible assets with a finite life are tested for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate their carrying value may not be recoverable. When the undiscounted cash flows of the assets are less than the carrying value of the asset, a write-down is required. There was no impairment required to be recorded in 2010. In 2009 one franchisee ceased their operations, materially affecting the value of future cash flows related to that franchise agreement. At December 31, 2009, the Company assessed the intangible assets for impairment and recorded a write-down of intangible assets of US$152,000 due to impairment.

Contingency

On June 18, 2010, three franchisees filed a complaint with the United States District Court, South District of New York, which management of the Company believes is without merit. The Complaint has listed the following causes of action, (1) breach of contract and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by PFC, (2) fraudulent misrepresentation by PFC, (3) negligent misrepresentation by PFC, and (4) violation of various state laws by PFC. These franchisees are located in Florida, North Carolina and Wisconsin. On July 13, 2010, one additional franchisee located in New York State joined the aforementioned complaint. On December 31, 2010, in conjunction with the purchase of the ProShred Wisconsin business by RAI, the Wisconsin franchisee permanently withdrew from the legal complaint.

The Company intends to vigorously defend against this claim. The Company is strongly of the view that it (1) has not breached any contracts or agreements with its franchisees and has acted in good faith with all franchisees, (2) has not made any fraudulent misrepresentations to any franchisees, (3) has not made any negligent misrepresentations to any franchisees, and (4) has complied with all state laws as well as Federal Trade Commission rules and regulations regarding franchising.

The final outcome with respect to this claim cannot be predicted nor can the costs to defend this claim be quantified with certainty and therefore there can be no assurance that its resolution will not have an adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position. No amounts have been accrued in these consolidated financial statements relating to this claim.

12 Financial risk management

The Company has various financial assets that consist of: cash, accounts receivable and notes receivable from franchisees. The Company's financial liabilities include accounts payable, accrued liabilities and notes payable.

The Company, through its financial assets and liabilities, has exposure to the following risks from its use of financial instruments: interest rate risk, credit risk, liquidity risk and currency risk. Senior management is responsible for setting acceptable levels of risk and reviewing risk management activities as necessary.

Interest rate risk

The Company's cash earns interest at prevailing and fluctuating market rates. The Company manages its exposure to interest rate risk through fixed rate lending to franchisees. The fixed rate notes receivable from franchisees are subject to interest rate pricing risk, as the value will fluctuate as a result of changes in market rates.

The Company has a line of credit facility that has a fixed interest rate of 10% per annum; the Company has no other interest bearing debt.

(expressed in Canadian dollars)

Credit risk

In accordance with its investment policy, the Company maintains cash deposits with banks. The credit risk on cash is limited because the counterparties are banks with high-credit ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies.

Receivables from franchisees

The accounts receivable from franchisees are exposed to credit risk from the possibility that franchisees may experience financial difficulty. The Company mitigates the risk of credit loss by limiting its exposure to any one franchisee. Credit assessments are conducted with respect to all new franchisees and all existing franchisees. In addition, the receivable balances are monitored on an ongoing basis with the result that the Company's exposure to bad debt is not significant. As of December 31, 2010, 6 franchisees accounted for 61% of the accounts receivable balance (December 31, 2009 – 6 franchises accounted for 66%). For the year ended December 31, 2010, 3 franchisees accounted for 32% of the Company's revenues (December 31, 2009 – 34%). As of December 31, 2010, 26% of accounts receivable was over 90 days old and related to one franchise (December 31, 2009 – 17% of accounts receivable was over 90 days old and related to two franchises).

Receivables from shredding customers

The accounts receivable are exposed to credit risk from the possibility that customers may experience financial difficulty. The Company mitigates the risk of credit loss by limiting its exposure to any one customer. All new customers are required to make payments for services by way of preapproved credit card, and credit is extended only after a credit assessment is conducted. In addition, the receivable balances with customers are monitored on an ongoing basis with the result that the Company's exposure to bad debt is not significant. At December 31, 2010, no customer accounted for more than 10% of the accounts receivable balance. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2010, no customer accounted for more than 10% of the Company's revenues in this category.

As of December 31, 2010, 10% of accounts receivable in this category was over 90 days old.

Currency risk

The Company incurs revenue primarily in US currency and both expenses in US and Canadian currency and as such, is subject to fluctuations as a result of foreign exchange rate variation. The Company manages its exposure to currency risk by billing for its services in US currency and in the underlying currency related to the expenditure.

The following financial instruments denominated in US funds have been translated at December 31, 2010, at an exchange rate of 0.9985 (2009 - 1.0494):

	2010 $	2009 $
Cash	463,591	239,726
Accounts receivable	214,494	246,253
Prepaid expenses	32,304	—
Notes receivable from franchisees	142,096	156,495
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	(285,345)	(90,251)

Since the Company's foreign subsidiaries are considered self-sustaining, unrealized foreign exchange fluctuations are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) and are only recorded in net income once realized on liquidation of the subsidiary.

At December 31, 2010, and assuming that all other variables remain constant, a 10% rise or fall in the Canadian dollar against the US dollar would have resulted in approximately $18,500 increase (decrease) in the income before taxes or in other comprehensive income for the year.

Liquidity risk

The Company's objective is to have sufficient liquidity to meet liabilities when due. The Company monitors its cash balances and cash flows generated from operations to meet requirements. Based on overall cash generation capacity and overall financial position, while there can be no assurance, management believes the Company will be able to meet financial obligations as they come due while maintaining compliance with all financial covenants. The accounts payable and accrued liabilities and notes payable of $613,348 at December 31, 2010 (2009 - $340,021), are due to be settled within one year from the balance sheet date.

The Company also has cash of $988,592 at December 31, 2010 and access to a $4 million line of credit, of which $2.79 million has been utilized at December 31, 2010, to be used for acquisitions as well as general corporate purposes.

Fair value of financial instruments

The carrying value amounts of many of the Company's financial instruments, including cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their value due primarily to the short-term maturity of the related instruments. The fair value estimates of the Company's notes receivable from franchisees (note 4), are made as at a specific point in time based on estimates using present value or other valuation techniques. These techniques involve uncertainties and are affected by the assumptions used and the judgments made regarding risk characteristics of various financial instruments, discount rates, estimates of future cash flows, future expected loss experience and other factors. The carrying value of the Company's notes receivable from franchisees at December 31, 2010, amounted to $194,670 (2009 - $207,559) with fair value estimated to amount to $121,008 (2009 - $130,399).

13 Capital management

The Company defines capital as shareholders' equity. The primary objective of the Company's capital management is to ensure that it maintains a conservative capital ratio in order to support its business and maximize shareholder value. The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may issue new shares or issue debt securities.
